

Sometimes our loved ones...

... can't be so close. ①

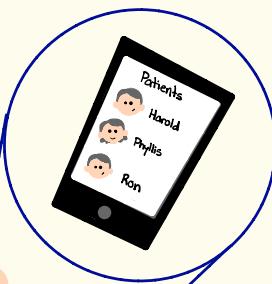

While caretakers work hard to take care of the elderly, their schedules can become quite hectic.

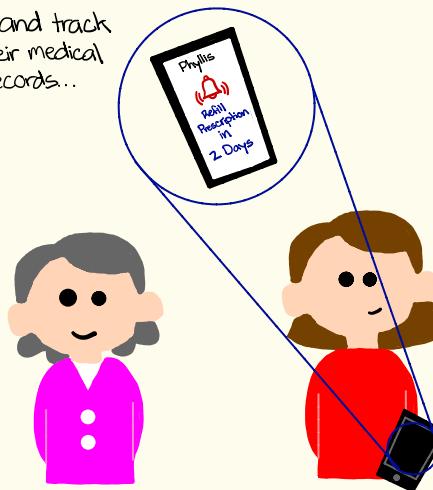

Neglecting one's own physical and emotional needs can feel like a requirement for caretakers at times.

Monitor patients remotely...

... and track their medical records...

... all while making time for well-deserved breaks.

